You might borrow a brooch from your grandmother or a vintage pin from your aunt, to give some examples. (At my own wedding, I borrowed my grandmother's father's wedding ring from my dad and tied it around my bouquet with twine. At the end of the night, it was easy to untie and give back!) Something totally out-of-the-box

"Something Borrowed" could have very easily followed suit (I'm picturing Rachel and Dex hiding behind planters to avoid Darcy.) Thankfully, wacky misadventures are not Giffin's style and it's one of the reasons why she's the best chick lit author writing today. That's not to say there's anything wrong with madcap plots and bold heroines (I'm ...
